TRENCHES AROUND KIUKIANG.

Preparations For The Coming Attack.

FENG'S PROMISE TO NANKING.

Nationalists Occupy Foreign Premises.

It is rumoured that trenches are being dug around the outskirts of Kiukiang in preparation for a Nationalist attack. General Feng Yu-hsiang has "definitely" agreed to assist the Nanking party. Nationalist troops in Chinkiang are again being billeted in foreign premises.

FENG'S PROMISE.

Assistance For Nanking Party.

Nanking, July 21.

The local Nationalist officials claim that Feng Yu-hsiang has definitely agreed to assist the Nanking party. The area of operations will probably be in the neighbourhood of Nanking.

[This may be taken as meaning that Feng's troops will remain to strengthen the Nanking defence forces in the event of the Armistice with the Fengtong forces falling through and an attack from the North materialising, whilst the Nationalist forces attacking the Hankow party are withdrawn from Nanking.]

The fire which followed the explosion at Hsai-kwan (suburb of Nanking) yesterday destroyed two trucks containing munitions and petrol and part of the railway shed.—British Naval Wireless.

Troops in Foreign Premises.

Chinkiang, July 21.

With the cessation of activities against the North, large numbers of Nationalist forces have collected in the town, and foreign premises are being occupied again for billeting purposes.—British Naval Wireless.

Kiukiang's Defence.

Kiukiang, July 21.

Hankow troops continue to arrive here and it is rumoured that trenches are being dug around the outskirts in anticipation of the Nationalist attack.

One junk containing troops arriving from Hankow capsized yesterday and an officer and twenty soldiers were drowned.—British Naval Wireless.

NANKING THWARTED.

Silver Shipments For Tientsin.

Rugby, July 21.

A question was asked in the House of Commons by Mr. S. P. Viant (Labourite, West Willesdon) whether the foreign Banks in Shanghai had recently shipped bullion to Tientsin in British destroyers, and whether the British Government had approved of that being done?

Mr. Locker-Lampson, Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, replied that in the early part of this month the Nanking authorities had issued instructions that no movement of treasure was to be effected without a permit issued by their Ministry of Finance. Two British Banks in Shanghai were on July 11 and 12, respectively, refused permits to ship silver bullion to Tientsin on the ground of the embargo. The free importation and exportation of silver bullion is provided for in the Treaties. The illegal prohibition of exportation to Tientsin involved the danger of a serious financial crisis at that port, with disastrous results to British interests. The British Minister accordingly consulted with the British Commander-in-Chief, who issued instructions for the transport of silver by British war ships. The British Minister reported that 3,000,000 taels were accordingly shipped from Shanghai for Wei-hai-wei in a destroyer flotilla for the two Banks on July 30 and, at the same time, at the request of the Japanese Minister, 500,000 taels were shipped for the Yokohama Specie Bank.—British Wireless Service.

ARMIES "FED UP."

Discontent With Too Much Fighting.

Shanghai, July 18.

According to a message from Nanking dated July 14, received in Shanghai to-day, General Ho Yin-chin, the Commander of the First Army, has returned to Nanking from the front together with troops of various divisions of the Army, and General Hsia Tou-yin has also arrived there from the upper reaches of the River, while the Political Department of the 40th Army now in Shantung has filed a petition to the Nanking Government, stating that the 40th Army desires to return to Nanking as it has engaged in battles for a long time. The railway station at Pukow is filled with several thousands of soldiers belonging to the 27th Army who appear to be fatigued, while the 1st Army, some 4,000 men strong, left Nanking for Anking on July 13 aboard the C. M. S. N. Company's steamer "Kianghsin," adds the message.

According to the same message, rumours are current in Nanking to the effect that the Southern forces in the region along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway have met with a terrible defeat or that the Wu-Han troops will soon make a descent on Nanking, and moreover posters in favour of co-operation with Soviet and Communists have begun to appear within the Wall. Owing to this, it is said, the Government authorities seem to be nervous and are endeavouring to arrest communistic elements.—Toto.

COMRADE BORODIN.

Warrant Out for His Arrest.

A sensational report gained currency on Saturday night (says the Shanghai "Daily News" of July 18) to the effect that Comrade Borodin had arrived in Shanghai. The first report was to the effect that he had left Hankow on Thursday morning either by a China Merchants or German steamer and had arrived here in the course of Saturday. It was found impossible to obtain corroboration of this report, and it was equally found impossible to locate him or to state that anybody had actually seen him.

When local Chinese officials were questioned with regard to the report that he was in Shanghai, they stated that they had understood that he had left Hankow for some destination unknown either on Thursday or Saturday, but their intelligence service had not yet reported his presence here.

It is understood that a warrant has been issued for his arrest and that if he is found anywhere in the territory of the Nanking Government he will be seized and handed over to the military authorities who will treat with him as an agent of an enemy government.

Circumstantial proof of his having left Hankow does not indicate to the Chinese that he is on his way to Shanghai, as it is regarded as more than probable that he intends to join the Communist forces on their front in Kiangsi or Anhui. The point is further made that it is not to be believed that the Hankow Government has become anti-Communist, as they are trying to prove to the world, but that this is a camouflage to beguile the issue as between Hankow and Nanking. Nanking officials insist that Han-

DRUG TRAFFIC.

Valuable Information From Hong Kong.

SYNDICATES ACTIVE.

New Expedient Adopted By Traffickers.

London, July 21.

The British Government has forwarded a long report to the League of Nations regarding the traffic in opium and other dangerous drugs during 1926.

The report shows that the illicit traffic continues on a large scale. It emphasises, by quoting several examples of the discovery of traffickers, the utility of the information mutually supplied by the Governments concerned. It says that bottles and tins of cocaine are repeatedly seized in British territory, usually on board vessels from the Far East.

It mentions especially information obtained from the Hong Kong authorities as regards the character and operations of syndicates, mainly Chinese, operating extensively in Hong Kong, Swatow, Amoy, Tonkin, and Shanghai. It says that the traffickers are adopting the expedient of mixing dangerous drugs with other substances, from which the drugs can easily be recovered.—Reuter.

SANDINO INDICTED.

RESPONSIBLE FOR RECENT SLAUGHTER.

A BROKEN PROMISE.

Managua, July 21.

General Moncada, the Liberal leader, lays the entire responsibility for the slaughter of the Nicaraguans who attacked the United States Marines at Ocotal on Sandino, who is reported to have fled to an inaccessible part of the country.

General Moncada says that Sandino gave him a written promise to abide by the peace agreement drawn up by the United States representative and recently signed by General Moncada, but the ink was scarcely dry when Sandino started for the mountains with a band of desperadoes and proceeded to assassinate his enemies and extort tribute from Liberal and Conservative alike.—Reuter's American Service.

How is to-day taking orders from Moscow and that, should Borodin leave, it would only mean that Moscow has decided that his usefulness is over and that another man must take his place.

It is confirmed beyond doubt that Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang is working in co-operation with Hankow; that he has accepted 30,000 rifles from Hankow and that his Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Y. L. Tong, is recognising the authority of Mr. Eugene Chen.

EARLIER NEWS.

Feng and the Hankow Threat.

Shanghai, July 21.

A wireless message from Nanking says that Feng Yu-hsiang has agreed to assist the Nanking Government if attacked by Hankow.

According to a telegram from Hankow the Wuhan Government received a telegram on Wednesday evening signed by Feng Yu-hsiang, Hsu Chien and H. H. Kung, proposing that Wuhan send a representative with plenipotentiary powers to meet a similar representative from the Nanking Government for the purpose of settling their differences and of combining in a Nationalist China unified and whole.

It is understood that a similar telegram has been sent to the Nanking Government.—Reuter.

A Report Denied.

Shanghai, July 21.

The Nanking News Bureau informs Reuter that the report from Peking that General Fang Pen-jen is negotiating with the South and North for a compromise with Yang Yu-ting is categorically denied by Chiang Kai-shek.—Reuter.

TUG & LIGHTER CO.

Shareholders Outburst at Meeting.

YEAR'S WORKING LOSSES.

Dissatisfaction with the direction of the affairs of the Hong Kong Tug and Lighter Company, Ltd., was expressed by Capt. A. W. Best at to-day's third ordinary meeting, which was presided over by Mr. R. G. Shewan, supported by Messrs. W. J. Carroll, Li Tse-fong and C. P. Marcel (Consulting Committee); Capt. R. D. Thomas (Superintendent) and A. A. Botelho (Secretary) with the following shareholders present, Messrs. A. A. Shields, Allan Keith, H. Dyer, J. Toppin, S. C. Cook, D. W. Munton, O. F. Ribeiro and Capt. A. W. Best.

The Chairman said:—As the report and accounts have been in your hands for the required period I propose now, with your permission, to take them as read.

Owing to the depression in business caused by circumstances beyond our control with which you are all familiar the result for the 12 months' working is a loss of $23,668.20 without, however, providing for depreciation.

We have done all that we could in the way of economy and cutting down our expenses consistent with keeping our fleet in a proper state of efficiency, but, of course, while the present condition of trade lasts, our running expenses must be disproportionate to our earnings.

As to the prospects of a settle-

RADIO TO MANILA.

New Hong Kong Government Departure.

Commencing to-morrow, a wireless service will be conducted between Hong Kong and the Philippines. Operations this end will be in the hands of the Hong Kong Government. Radio department in Manila the Radio Corporation of the Philippines will have charge.

Ordinary messages, deferred telegrams and Press telegrams will be relayed, and the rates will be slightly lower than the prevailing telegraph charges.

ment of the present political situation in China and a return to a normal state of trade, you are as well able to judge as I, but it must be admitted that the prospects at present seem very gloomy.

Real Demand.

In spite of everything, however, we feel that there is a real demand for such a Company as ours and that in ordinary times our cargoboots and tugs would find steady and profitable employment. The rates we obtain are profitable and we only require a larger volume of business to make a fair return on our Capital. We have not let our property run down, and both tugs and lighters are in good repair.

I regret to say that one of our cargoboots, which was chartered by a Chinese Company, for work on the West River, has been seized by the Chinese Authorities at Dosing owing to opium having been discovered on board. The matter is in the hands of the British Consul, and, when settled, we shall have to fall back on the Chinese Charterers for any losses we have suffered.

During the year we sold one of our small tugs at approximately cost price, which gave us a small profit on her book value. I much regret that we have not a better statement to lay before you, but the times are abnormal, and we cannot do better while the demand for our service is so restricted.

I now beg to propose that the report and accounts as presented be adopted and passed, and when this has been seconded I shall be pleased to answer any questions from shareholders.

The above proposal was seconded by Mr. C. F. Marcel.

Shareholder's Criticism. Capt. Best inquired how much the tug which had been sold had realised.

The Chairman: A little over the cost.

Capt. Best: But how much was that?

The Chairman said he thought it was not necessary to give figures. If it was in the interests of the Company he would gladly tell Capt. Best.

SHOT TO DEATH.

Capt. Jentoft Succumbs To Wounds.

TRAGEDY OF "SOLVIKEN" PIRACY.

Funeral at Happy Valley To-day.

We regret to record the death of Capt. Rickard Jentoft, who passed away at the French Hospital early this morning from injuries sustained at the hands of the pirates who took control of his steamer, the s.s. "Solviken," 120 miles south of Hong Kong whilst on its way to Saigon early on the morning of Wednesday last.

Capt. Jentoft was shot by the pirates who awakened him in his cabin. It is not known whether or not he attempted to resist the pirates' orders or was shot in cold blood. He was taken to the French Hospital on arrival of the "Solviken" yesterday morning, suffering from two bullet wounds, in the lower part of the body, below the heart. An immediate operation was necessitated, but the chances of the Captain's recovery were slight. He passed away shortly after 1 a.m. to-day.

Capt. Jentoft was a native of Bergen, Norway, and is survived by a wife and two daughters who are in Norway and to whom the sad news has been sent. He has been in the East for about three years, engaged on trading vessels and joined Wallen and Company's service with the "Solviken" in March of last year. "He was a much respected officer whose services we can ill afford to lose," an official of the Company told a "China Mail" representative this morning.

The funeral takes place to-day, passing the Monument at 6 p.m. The Norwegian community will be largely represented.

No Arrests. With regard to the piracy, no further news is available locally. No arrests have been made and it seems to be established that all the pirates made good their escape inland at Bias Bay.

In view of the acquaintance they showed with the movements of the officers and the location of the gold bars, it appears probable that the pirates had information from within on which to work in carrying out the piracy.

The gold specie was, it is understood, fully insured.

The 2nd officer of the "Solviken," Mr. Johnsen, who was injured, is progressing favourably and should shortly be leaving Hospital.

Recent Shootings.

Previous piracies in recent years resulting in death or injury to officers are as follows:—"Sui An" (November 19, 1922). Captain, two guards and two passengers injured and two Indian guards shot dead.

"Sanning" (Oct. 27, 1923). Captain, Chief Officer and one guard wounded.

"Tai Lee" (January 21, 1924). Captain Wilcox shot dead in cold blood.

"Tung Chow" (December 18, 1925). Capt. McIntosh severely wounded.

"Sunning" (November 15, 1926). Chief Engineer Mr. Cormack wounded.

Capt. Best persisted and the Chairman remarked that he could not sacrifice the interests of all the shareholders to satisfy the curiosity of one.

Capt. Best expressed doubt as to whether the amount had been accounted for. With regard to depreciation, he noticed that no allowance had been made. Another item which struck him, notice was that of $10,000 still to be paid to the underwriters. "I suppose you won't say who did the underwriting," said Capt. Best. What I said a year ago is borne out to-day. It would be far better if we had new general managers.

Other Business. The Chairman: It has been proposed by myself and seconded by Mr. Marcel that the report and accounts as presented be adopted. The adoption was approved.

The Consulting Committee was re-elected on the proposition of Mr. A. Keith, seconded by Mr. D. W. Munton.—Capt. Best voted against.

Messrs. Percy Smith, Seth and Fleming were re-elected auditors on the proposition of Mr. Cook, seconded by Mr. Dreyer.

This concluded the meeting.

BRITAIN'S NEW VIEW.

Recognition of Her Position in China.

RENUNCIATION OF TERRITORY.

Low Price For Option on China's Goodwill?

China's external problems were discussed at the Institute of Pacific Relations in Honolulu yesterday.

Sir Frederick Whyte referred to Great Britain's new view of her permanent interests in the Far East and asserted that the renunciation of territory was a low price to pay for an option on China's future goodwill.

"CENTRE OF THE WORLD."

Honolulu, July 21.

The discussion on China's external problems was continued yesterday behind closed doors at the Institute of Pacific Relations, but three important papers have been published.

In the first paper Dr. Masato Sawayanagi (Japan) expressed the opinion that the Pacific was becoming the "centre of the world," and eventually it would be necessary for the nations bordering thereon to recognise the natural right of immigration.

Mr. Walter Nass (the New Zealand Labour leader), author of the second paper, declared that New Zealand's problems were unemployment and land settlement.

Britain's Policy. Sir Frederick Whyte, the author of the third paper, reviewed Sino-British relations from the earliest times. He said that Great Britain's policy toward China had been dictated primarily, if not solely, by commercial interests.

He emphasised that although the original suggestion of calling a disarmament Conference at Washington came from the United States, the initiative of adding politics in the Pacific to its deliberations came from Great Britain. He thought that China was the principal beneficiary of the achievements of that conference.

ROUMANIA'S LOSS.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IN LONDON.

DUKE OF YORK TO ATTEND.

Rugby, July 21. H.R.H. the Duke of York will represent His Majesty the King at a memorial service to the late King Ferdinand of Roumania to be held in the Greek Cathedral in London on Saturday.—British Wireless Service.

Local Observance. Colours were half-masted on naval vessels in harbour to-day as a mark of respect to the memory of the late King of Roumania. They will remain at half-mast until sunset to-morrow (the day of the funeral).

NAVAL PARLEY.

FIRST LORD CONSULTS HOME EXPERTS.

CABINET SUMMONED.

Rugby, July 21.

Mr. W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, who has returned to London from Geneva, was at the Admiralty to-day in consultation with naval experts. Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, was also present.

A Cabinet meeting has been summoned for to-morrow.—British Wireless Service.

PROMOTION.

COMDR. J. B. NEWILL, D.S.O., R.N.

Lt.-Comdr. J. B. Newill, D.S.O., R.N., of the Harbour Office, Hong Kong, has been promoted to the rank of Commander.

The information is contained in an Admiralty notice dated June 17 which reads:—

"I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to acquaint you that you have been promoted to the rank of Commander on the Retired List as from June 17, 1927."

ence, but the renunciation of territory or privilege was a low price to pay for an option on China's future goodwill.

Sir Frederick Whyte added:—"The forces at work since the end of the war have brought Great Britain to a new view of her permanent interests in the Far East and the recognition of her position—that of the greatest of the European traders in China—has meant a change of front, and with that she is regaining her initiative." Her part in the Washington Conference was dictated by her own interests and the welfare of China. Already committed by the nine-Power Treaty to a constructive policy in China, she is now doubly committed by her own act in addressing the Treaty Powers last December to the welcome responsibility of carrying the Washington principles into full effect.—Reuter.

YPRES MEMORIAL.

FOUNDATION STONE OF SCHOOL.

TO BE LAID ON SUNDAY.

Rugby, July 21. The foundation stone of the Ypres Memorial School will be laid by Field-Marshal Lord Plumer on Sunday at Ypres after the Menin Gate Memorial has been unveiled.

The School has been designed by Sir Reginald Blomfield, and will be erected to the memory of 342 old boys of Eton College who lost their lives in the Ypres salient. The money for erecting the School has been entirely contributed by Etonians and their relatives.—British Wireless Service.

POPIU TICKETS.

CHINESE MAN AND WOMAN CONVICTED.

For the unlawful possession of 59 popiu lottery tickets which he claimed had expired, a Chinese living at No. 2, Keswick Street, Wanchai, was this morning fined $60 by Mr. R. E. Lindsell. A list of names found amongst the tickets the accused claimed related to a Money Loan Association. The Magistrate thought it was curious that some of the names on the list should tally with those written on some of the tickets, and convicted the accused.

A Chinese woman was charged with the possession of 194 lottery tickets. They were found concealed in a girdle round her waist when she was searched in Hill Road, near the Kam Ling Restaurant. She said they were given to her by a man to carry. Mr. Lindsell imposed a fine of $100 of six weeks' jail.

NORTH-EAST WINDS.

"North-east winds, moderate to fresh" is the official weather forecast until noon to-morrow.

Pressure has increased considerably at Chefoo and slightly to moderately at other coast stations from Haploph to Vladivostok; it has decreased considerably over North Japan, and slightly elsewhere.

The depression remains over Tongking and a secondary appears to be developing in the neighbourhood of the Paracels.

The northern depression has moved into the Sea of Japan; the typhoon is situated about 200 miles N.E. of Manila, moving W.

HORRORS OF WAR.

DEAD AND DYING MEN IN

A FILM.

BATTLE FRONT SCENES.

Berlin's great cinema theatre, the U.F.A. Palace, was filled to capacity when the first part of Germany's official film history of the war, "Welt-Krieg" was presented to the public.

The production is the work of two ex-officers who are now custodians of the State archives. It is estimated that the total length of the film will reach twenty reels, of which about seven were shown.

The pictorial sequences consist almost wholly of films taken on the various battle fronts by Germany's best and bravest cinematographers. They have been assembled in a manner that presents the war as a continuous and comprehensive story, as written in the hearts and minds of the German people.

Not Propaganda.

It is not a propagandist production, except in the sense that it reviews the war as the German people knew and saw it. It suggests that Germany regarded the war as inevitable, though admittedly provoked by the murder at Sarajevo, and it slurs over the invasion of Belgium. Apart from these points, there is nothing to which the ex-enemies of Germany could take exception, and there is much that is profoundly interesting, heroic, and admirable.

This is a film that should end war, although the scenes of which it is composed were originally taken for the purpose of advertising war as "made in Germany."

It shows men being slaughtered like flies. The big shells—British and French shells—burst in crowded trenches and when the smoke passes the men have disappeared. Nothing remains of them but sinister debris. Agonised faces flash across the screen. The distraught eyes and open mouths tell their own tale. Dim forms are seen writhing and twisting on the ground. Only the corpses are still.

Snapshots of Slaughter.

The screaming figure of a man who has obviously lost his reason dashes into view. His comrades seize him and haul him out of the camera's range.

These are mere glimpses, and snapshots of slaughter, because the editors have been merciful, and have cut all such scenes to a second or so, but the cumulative effect of them is unforgettable.

A singularly vivid picture shows a man who, unable to face machine-gun fire, throws himself on the ground and tears at the earth in a frantic effort to find cover for his head.

None of these films has previously been seen by the German people. Some of them were shown to selected neutral countries during the war, when they formed part of a film called "The Conquest of Poland," which was shown throughout America early in 1916.

The production is dedicated to the memory of the German dead, and its international sweep of pictures of 1914 will stir memories elsewhere than in Germany.

Mobilisation.

Early mobilisation scenes in London, Paris, St. Petersburg, Vienna, Munich, Belgrade, Sofia, and other places, are all included. There is even a picture of King George in his state coach and a ceremonial march of the Grenadier Guards.

Hindenburg and Ludendorff are seen planning the remarkable campaign which led to the debacle of Tarnenberg, when 90,000 Russian prisoners were taken. The prisoners, miles of them, are shown in the film.

Britain's impression that Germany knew little or nothing of the horrors of invasion in East Prussia, where the advancing Russians, sweeping down in vast hordes, sacked scores of German villages and townships and drove thousands of refugees before them.

The general effect of the film is to leave the impression that it is the most tremendous argument that could have been conceived for the country which called war the "Great Game!"

SHIPPING SECTION.

SHIP SINKING.

AN AMERICAN FOR NEW YORK.

London, July 21. From Colombo the British steamer "Malakuta" reports that the American steamer "Homestead" from Cocanada for New York, is in latitude 12-30 north and longitude 72-50 east, and is sinking fast forward. The Japanese steamer "Indus Maru" is close by.—Reuter.

STEAMER BOYCOTT.

REPORTS OF CESSATION PREMATURE.

Although the vernacular papers report that the boycott against British steamers in Canton had been abolished as from yesterday, it was understood on inquiries being made at the Steamboat Company's offices this morning, that so far as their ships were concerned there had been no change either as regards passengers or cargo.

THE "AUSTRALIA."

"ROLLS ROYCE" OF THE ATLANTIC.

As an organisation of transportation no system anywhere is equal to the Canadian Pacific Railway, or even approaches it. This remarkable system spans the world. Its railways traverse the Dominion east to west; its steamships join up with Europe, Australia, and the Far East. The company owns a chain of hotels, carries on a banking system, and issues travellers' notes. Being able to grant unique facilities it is scarcely surprising that the company is experiencing greater demands upon its steamer routes, and in order to cope with the expanding North Atlantic traffic has transferred the "Empress of Australia" to the Pacific service. This ship is to be the finest to ply between Canada and the Mother Country, and by the courtesy of Sir George McLaren Brown, the European general manager of the company, a representative of the "Financial News" was afforded an opportunity of travelling by her from Greenock to Southampton.

The Canadian Pacific Railway caters for all classes, and is now making special efforts to cultivate tourist traffic. The "Empress of Australia" was originally designed as a first-class passenger vessel, but her machinery was found to be ineffective. The company therefore took the bold course some months ago of scrapping it, and entrusted her to the Fairfield Shipbuilding Co., whose engineers have completely reconditioned her. At a heavy cost, it is true; but what is the result? The "Empress of Australia" is now the most modern boat of her class, and the most economically steam-driven on the ocean. Her fuel consumption has been reduced from 205 tons to 100 tons of oil a day. Assume a saving of £3 a ton, and the cost of reconditioning will before long be fully met. Where the original engines developed only 16½ knots, the new machinery develops over 23 knots. There is complete freedom from noise, and the ship is so steady that motion is almost imperceptible.

Accommodation. As regards comfort, it is questionable whether the "Empress of Australia" is surpassed. The first-class sleeping accommodation consists of spacious rooms, or suites of rooms, with beds in places of bunks. The original second-class accommodation is now assigned to third-class tourists, and it is by general consent unequalled. It, in fact, vies with first-class on some lines. Consideration for the different nationalities carried has induced the company to provide separate English third-class quarters, and separate Continental third-class, in different parts of the ship. Each is remarkably well furnished; each—the tourist third, the English third, and the Continental third—has its own kitchen, recreation rooms, barber's shop, &c. There is a spacious swimming bath—the only one on the Canadian service—surrounded by dressing rooms; a gymnasium, a children's nursery, and a dark room.

The decoration of the dining saloon, which occupies the breadth of the vessel, the lounges, and the smoking-room, is the remarkable achievement in colour effect, and nothing appertaining to comfort has been overlooked. In fact, the vessel may be regarded as a kind of "Rolls-Royce" of the Atlantic. At the dinner, Sir George McLaren Brown, in welcoming the guests, stated that the object of the company was to place in the Atlantic service an exceptionally fine vessel—an indication of the importance attached by the company to this service. He paid a high tribute to the originators and others of the C. P. R. system, and to those now in command, and said that the company had at the present time nine ocean-going liners under construction in the shipyards of Great Britain.

It is interesting to note that on her second voyage to Canada the "Empress of Australia" will have as passengers the Prince of Wales and the Prime Minister, and later in the year she will be engaged in a world tourist cruise. Fortunate those who will be able to secure berths.

LYING INSHORE.

Three masters and 15 mistresses of junks were fined $10 each in the Marine Court this morning for lying inshore.

A WEEK'S PAPERS IN ONE.

At long last it seems that a definite move is to be made against the out-and-out Communists who have been over-running Hankow and other Yangtze ports for the best part of six months. Together with foreigners, the main military factions are beginning to realise that the first step towards the salvation of China must necessarily be the extermination of the Borodin-Eugene Chen clique.

With this end in view, political experts see the imminence of a north and south truce, with the Communists as the common enemy. How the hotch-potch Chinese situation has materialised into something definite is fully told in this week's "Overland Mail."

This issue also contains the cream of the local news of the week. It will keep those at Home in touch with what is happening in Hong Kong, in China and throughout the Far East generally. Let us mail it for you.

ANOTHER PIRACY.

There will be keen regret that another piracy has been committed with Bias Bay figuring once more as the headquarters of the pirates. When that notorious rendezvous was raided by the British Navy at the end of March copies were widely distributed in Chinese of which the following is a broad translation:

This punishment is inflicted on this village on account of repeated piracies by the inhabitants of this district. If any further piracies are committed by the inhabitants of this region the punishment will be repeated.

Immediately after that raid on Bias Bay some capital was sought to be made by certain Chinese propagandists out of the fact that the British had entered upon Chinese soil, and it was alleged that some of the Chinese inhabitants of the Bias Bay region were "massacred." The Canton Government had the good sense to ignore this specious plea for another attack on the British in China, knowing full well that time and again was it given the opportunity either to carry out that expedition itself or to co-operate in it with the British forces. Canton was content merely to talk of adopting anti-piracy measures "once the boycott against Hong Kong was terminated." In spite of piracy after piracy, in which naturally Chinese were the greatest victims, the Canton Government remained inept and indifferent. It stolidly refused to lift a finger in the direction of carrying out an obvious duty in the interests of Chinese subjects, with the result that Bias Bay became more than ever the recognised haven thither the pirates conveyed their "prizes" and their victims. If the Canton authorities were indifferent to the loss of Chinese life and property the British authorities took a more serious view of the continual menace to Britain shipping and trade—hence the subsequent raid on Bias Bay after previous notification to Canton through the British Consul-General.

It should not matter greatly that the latest victim of piracy should be a Norwegian steamer, in so far as concerns the fact that Bias Bay has again been utilised by the pirates. The lessons of the raid of March 30 have been lost or conveniently forgotten—more likely still, openly defied! Will the Canton authorities waken up to their sense of duty at long last and send an expedition to the Bias Bay region? Or, will they remain as indifferent as before and rely on the British Naval Forces repeating the punishment meted out on March 30? These are pertinent questions in light of the piracy on the Norwegian steamer reported fully in our columns yesterday. They cannot be completely disregarded by any Government with the slightest pretence to have the ability to govern and to maintain law and order within its own territories. We await the answers to these queries from Canton!

The Police Reserve.

As will be seen in our news columns to-day, the Adjutant of the Hong Kong Police Reserve has issued a notification in connection with the proposed formation of an International Company of Special Police to act beside the other Companies formed or in process of formation (and, of course, the regular Police Force) in times of emergency. It is to be hoped that this statement may have the desired effect, which is to get together a body of willing volunteers, irrespective of nationality, who are prepared to stand by the existing powers responsible for law and order if and when the occasion demands. The notification is self-explanatory. There are no arbitrary terms of service requiring for definition the assistance of a learned Magistrate or anyone else. A Reservist may resign at any time, except during a state of emergency. If he leaves the Force within a year of joining, he is asked to refund the cost of his uniform, which is but a natural and in no sense an unfair demand. Incidentally, he will be clothed and equipped as are the regular Police Force, except that for the sake of identification he will wear a letter "R" on his epaulettes in addition to his number. The sentence in the notification which reads: "It is not intended that any gentleman should remain in the Force if he does not wish to do so" is one covering all doubts in the matter and one we like. In regard to the training schedule, details of which are also published in this issue, this, it will be seen, by no means calls for over strenuous preparation or undue expenditure of time. The whole scheme, it seems, has been most thoughtfully planned and is one, in our opinion, worthy of consideration by all who, as we have said before, would find themselves at a "loose end" should any trouble break out in the Colony calling for the application of emergency methods.

ARMS IN A SACK.

TWO YEARS' HARD LABOUR FOR CHINESE.

BIG HAUL OFF LINER.

At the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday before Mr. W. Schofield and Major C. Wilson, a Chinese man and a woman were charged with the unlawful possession of 12 revolvers, 12 Luger pistols, 11 magazines, 9 sprigs parts and 3,600 rounds of ammunition, which were found concealed in sacks of stale rice and bread.

The accused were defended by Mr. Leo d'Almada who entered a plea of "not guilty."

Evidence was given by a Chinese Revenue Officer who said he was on duty on the No. 5 wharf at Kowloon Godowns at 4 p.m. on July 5. The French liner "Paul Leat" was at that time alongside the wharf and the witness saw some 20 sacks being lowered into a sampan from the liner's stern. He kept watch and finally saw the male accused board the sampan from the liner. The accused were hailed by the witness and ordered to bring the sacks to the wharf for inspection. When one of the sacks was opened, it was found to contain rice crust. A second sack was then opened and among some stale bread the witness found several pistols. The female accused attempted to kick the contraband off the wharf. Both accused were then taken into custody.

Revenue Officer Lanigan deposed to opening the other sacks in which the other arms and the ammunition which formed part of the charge against the accused were brought to light.

Ignorance Pleaded.

In their statements to the police the accused claimed that they were not aware that the arms were concealed in the sacks. They stated that they were merely engaged to carry the sacks. In consequence of this statement the male accused was taken to No. 28, Second Street to try and find the man who had engaged his sampan, but without success. One man was found in the house, however, who claimed two sacks of rice which he said he had engaged the accused to move for him. This man pointed out his two sacks, and these were found to contain only rice.

Mr. d'Almada said that in view of the accused's statements and the evidence of the prosecution he would not put the accused in the witness box.

The Magistrate convicted the male accused who, they found, must have known the contents of the sacks. He was sentenced to two years' hard labour. The woman was discharged.

TAIKOO'S LOSS.

DEATH OF MR. T. PETERSEN.

ALLEGED CHOLERA.

The death of Mr. T. Petersen, of Taikoo Dockyard, occurred at the Government Civil Hospital on Wednesday night. News of his death came as a great shock to his many friends as he appeared to be in good health up to the day of his admission to Hospital and had been on duty last week-end in Canton where he had gone in connection with repairs which had been effected to the s.s. "Tung On."

It was not until the morning of his admission to Hospital that Mr. Petersen complained of a severe headache and remained at home. His condition became critical that afternoon and he was immediately conveyed to Hospital. Death took place at 11.30 p.m. from what is believed to have been cholera.

The sympathy of a wide circle of friends will go out to Mr. Petersen's widow and two children who went Home last year and are living at Old Kilpatrick, Dumfriesshire, Scotland, of which place Mr. Petersen was a native.

The late Mr. Petersen was 36 years of age. Prior to his appointment with the Taikoo Dockyard, he was with Barclay and Curle, the well-known engineering firm of Glasgow.

Yesterday's Funeral.

The funeral took place yesterday, the principal mourners in the absence of Mrs. Petersen and children being Mr. N. Macarthur, Inspector and Mrs. E. Bloor, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cunningham, Mrs. D. Haig and Mrs. A. Craig, all intimate friends of the family.

The Rev. H. Copley Mayle officiated.

Among those present from Taikoo were Mr. K. E. Greig, (Manager), Mr. F. H. Allan Ward, (Chief Engineer), and Mr. R. McGregor, (Secretary). From the C.N.C., Mr. B. E. Fielder, (Accountant), Mr. M. M. Murray (Superintendent), Mr. J. R. Kinghorn, (Assistant Superintendent), and Mr. R. Innes, (Marine Superintendent).

Others present from Taikoo were Messrs. T. C. Barclay, D. C. Walmisley, H. Dineley, W. Wotherspoon, W. O. Bell, R. Bell, T. Young, D. Young, J. H. Raptis, J. Mitchell, J. McCubbin, (Sugar Refinery); W. H. McKennie, A. MacIndoe, J. Finnie, W. Brown, J. E. Hansen, G. Gerrard, A. Ramsay, D. Haig, T. Swan, T. Sloan, and R. C. Wallace.

China Navigation Company representatives included J. Andrew, W. P. Barclay, L. E. Macfarlane, J. McBride, J. Smart, G. McLeod, A. Macdonald, J. W. Robertson, D. Goldie, R. J. Nunn, D. C. Jones, H. Thomson, E. Williams, W. Roxburgh, and Captain Millar. Representatives of the Chinese dockyard workers were also present.

Wreaths.

Wreaths were sent by the following:—Mrs. Petersen and two children, Mr. A. Nisbet, Mr. J. Watson, Ralph H. Cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Craig and family, Mr. T. J. ## P'RAPS—P'RAPS NOT!

Two negroes in prison were discussing with each other their crimes and punishments. The first one said, "Say, you nigger, what did you do?" Well, said his friend, "I hit a man over the head with a bottle o' beer."

"What did they give you for it?" "Fifteen years," was the answer, "an' you—what you in for?" "Oh, I got funny with a razor."

"Did you—an' how long are you in for?"

"From now on," came the sad reply.

Charles B. Cochran has arranged for a pint of milk a day to be supplied to each of his seventy-five chorists who are rehearsing "Castle in the Air." I suppose he thinks it good for their calves says the "Looker-on" in "London Opinion."

Englishman (at street accident for a pint of milk a day to be supplied to each of his seventy-five chorists who are rehearsing "Castle in the Air." I suppose he thinks it good for their calves says the "Looker-on" in "London Opinion.")

Two Irish women were discussing the death of a mutual friend. Said one: "What did he die of?" "Gangrene," was the reply. "Well, thank hiven for the colour, anyway."

Brown—"What do you do with your worn-out razor blades?" Jones—"I shave with them." "Pennsylvania Punch Bowl."

Returned Tourist (to his friend)—"Well, I like Paris and Rome, but the best part of the whole thing was the trip over. Don't miss that, whatever you do, if you go to Europe."—"Christian Register."

A sportsman, who owned a small estate in Hampshire, invited a guest for the week end. On the Sunday the host decided to go to church, and persuaded his friend to accompany him.

When the offertory bag came round the guest was about to drop half a crown into it, when the companion seized his arm.

"Put that in your pocket, Bill," he said, in an earnest whisper, "you're having this with me!"

The occasion was a Christmas entertainment, which included a choir of girls and boys. One of the adult performers met a stray member of the choir at the back of the stage—a small girl—a charming little representative of the children of Israel.

"Well, my dear," he said, "and what are you going to sing?"

The little daughter of Jerusalem looked up at him with a solemn expression and answered, without a smile:—

"Christians, Awake!"

Boy (looking up from book): "Pa, what is an alibi?"

Mr. Bill Sykes: "A—er—time-saving device."

First American playgoer: "Say, bo' you mustn't miss that new show 'Birthday Fashions,' they've got a Godiva scene in it with a dame without any clothes sitting on a horse."

Second ditto: "I'm sure going. Why I ain't seen a horse in years."

The foreman was taking one of his workmen to task.

"It's a funny thing, Jim," he said, "these alibi missing a quarter and these living next door to t' works while Bill Jones, who lives two miles away, is allus on time."

"There's nowt funny about the boss," retorted Jim. "If he's a late in t' morning he can hurry bit, but if I'm late I'm here."

Country Doctor (Superintendent of Sunday School)—Now, child who can tell me what we must in order to get to Heaven?

Bright Boy—We must die.

Country Doctor—Quite right, what must we do before we die?

Bright Boy—Get sick, a for you.

"I'm glad to see you, Johnny," said the father at small son, who had been on school, but who was not getting his holiday. "How are you getting on at school?"

"Fine," said Johnny and "I learned to say 'Thank you please in French' that's 'Good!' said the father more than you ever say in English."

"What's all this scuffling going on in the kitchen, Mary?"

"Well, a—er—sorry, sir, but the policeman is here."

"Oh, I see, he's obviously objected."

"Er—no, the postman did."

"Yes," said man. "I have had many ailments, but had many the one that none stand as a boy." came to me, and I fixed myself in your memory, I suppose the tall man.

"Exact under a tent to see the tall man."

"I had discovered it was a tall man."

SUMMARY COURT CASE.

There was an echo in the Summary Court yesterday of the Criminal Sessions case concerning the alleged murder of a dairymaid's concubine at Kowloon City when two men were discharged.

The Yue Cheong Firm claimed against Wong Sang, the dairymaid in question, for $104.04 alleged to be due for goods sold to defendant in connection with his business.

The defence was that the goods had not been sold to defendant, but to the murdered concubine who had purchased them.

After the evidence had been given, His Honour Mr. P. Jackson found for the plaintiffs with costs. Mr. C. A. S. Fuss was for plaintiffs and Mr. F. X. Remedios for defendant.

INDIAN'S ATTACK.

TWO CHINESE WOMEN ASSAULTED.

The sequel to a report published on Wednesday of two Chinese women being taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital suffering from injuries received through being assaulted with a stick by an Indian warder of the Lai-chikok Prison, was heard in Mr. W. Schofield's Court at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

The Indian, Ghula Ali, was sentenced to two months' hard labour, after having pleaded "guilty."

Sub-Inspector McWalter prosecuted, while Mr. J. W. Franks watched the proceedings on behalf of the Prison Department.

The story for the prosecution as related by Sub-Inspector McWalter, was that the accused was walking on the Castle Peak Road, near Lai-chikok, on Tuesday evening when he noticed the two women sitting outside their house. He flashed his torch light on them. Asked what he wanted, the accused caught hold of one of the women and dragged her along the road. She naturally resisted and was struck by the accused with a heavy stick which he was carrying. When the second woman went to her companion's assistance she was similarly assaulted.

Accused's story was that he accidentally kicked one of the women who abused him. A crowd gathered and he (accused) was attacked by about 20 persons. He used his stick to keep the mob at bay. He later reported the matter to his superior officer.

Mr. Frank said that no report was made to the Chief Warder. He understood that the accused had offered to settle the matter by paying the complainants $25 as compensation, but the latter refused.

In sentencing the accused, Mr. Schofield remarked that it was a completely unprovoked assault. Accused was also ordered to pay $10 compensation to each of the two women.

HERCULANEUM.

WHAT EXCAVATION MAY DISCLOSE.

PROMISE OF RICH FINDS.

Signor Mussolini's decision to carry out, or rather renew, the excavation of Herculanum holds out the promise of rich archaeological finds.

The promise of a rich yield of treasure, in spite of the comparative smallness of the city, is due to the fact that the disaster in A.D. 79 was so sudden that there was not time for the removal of valuables or even essentials. The burial of Pompeii was not sudden. The people lingered on the spot, and the clouds of ashes only slowly covered the buildings. Their depth did not exceed twenty feet. Herculanum was buried in a depth of eighty feet in a sudden torrent of liquid mud. There is little chance of the remains at Herculanum, and even murels are readable after a slight restoration.

Previous Finds. It was a city of culture and refinement, whilst Pompeii was more commercial. The excavation is more difficult, and has been delayed because, unlike Pompeii, a new town (Resina) has grown up on the site. Moreover, there was an old belief that the place was covered with hard lava, whereas there was but a slight lava cover deposited, mainly on the external borders, during an eruption in 1631. The covering is technically known as "tufo."

In the course of ages it has become hard rock. The original site was on rising ground near the sea. The town had harbours, but the coast has now been washed out through volcanic and earthquake effects.

Strabo tells us of the healthiness of the town. Seneca says that Agrippina, the elder, had a beautiful villa there, which her son, the mad Emperor Caligula, destroyed. The famous Piso family are believed to have had a residence in the city. A contemporary account of the eruption is given by the younger Pliny. His uncle was Admiral of the Fleet, and perished in a gallant effort to rescue the sufferers by boat.

The theatre was uncovered some centuries ago, and six splendid bronze horses were taken away and melted down by the King for candlesticks. The small portion excavated in the Nineteenth Century is called "Scava Nuovi."

Two-storeyed houses were disclosed to view, four shops, three eating houses, and an oyster bed. A wooden chest of drawers with bronze fittings was unfortunately empty. Ropes, nets, cords, and food were also discovered.

An English translation (1760) of a catalogue of early finds mentions a brass instrument case with a small, thin rod of silver, with written characters: "An oven stopped, which being opened had a pie within in a metal pan about one palm and a half in diameter, the pie being burnt to a coal (nevertheless one might perceive the ornaments of the crust)."

Precious Papry. Literary treasure is particularly to be hoped for. One may even anticipate contemporary letters dealing with the new religion, Christianity.

In an earlier effort eight hundred manuscripts were found in one house, but they were manuscripts of a "specialist." Many of the papry looked like lumps or rolls of charcoal, and some were ignorantly destroyed.

The problem of how to deal with them was solved by a priest, Father Piaggio, who invented a machine for unrolling them with silk threads. So delicate was the material that only one inch could be withdrawn after five hours' work. Later, it was hoped to expedite matters by chemical means, and Sir Humphry Davy experimented, without much success. This was followed by the deliberations and experiments of a Commission presided over by Lord Castlereagh; but seven rolls were destroyed. A return was made to the old method. This has proceeded for over 100 years, and has been very costly, the requisite skill demanding a long apprenticeship.

George IV, when Prince of Wales, sent out a superintendent. The former was presented with a number of rolls, which he handed to the Bodleian Library. Six were given to Napoleon and there are a few in the British Museum.

The villa so rich in literary remains belonged, it has been suggested, to Lucius Calpurnius Piso. In this villa were also found thirteen large bronze statues, nine of which are amongst the finest in the world; thirty-two bronze busts, eighteen small statues, fifteen marble busts, and eight marble statues.

JUDGEMENT IN ROSS DIVORCE CASE.

CHARGES NOT PROVED.

In the Court of Session Lord Morison assailed the defender and the co-defender from the conclusions of the summons in the defended action of divorce by Lady Patricia Ellison or Ross, 33 Warwick Square, London, against Sir Charles Henry Augustus Frederick Lockhart Ross, Bt., of Balmagown, Ross-shire.

Mrs. Emily Key Hoffman or Dalziel, residing in New York, was called as the co-defender.

The defender and the co-defender both denied the averments as to infidelity.

His Lordship awarded the pursuer her expenses against the defender and found the co-defender entitled to modified expenses against the pursuer.

In the course of his judgment, Lord Morison said that at the conclusion of the hearing of the evidence in the case, his impression was that the charges of misconduct made by the pursuer against the defender and the co-defender had not been established.

He had since then considered the whole of the evidence, and the notes of the speech of counsel, the result being that this impression had been confirmed.

The case of the pursuer was that misconduct must be held to have taken place during the course of a hunting expedition in South Africa, which the defender and the co-defender had organised, and in which Major and Mrs. Dugmore, their two daughters, and a Mrs. Barnes joined.

Lord Morison passed in review the evidence that had been led both with regard to the party's passage to South Africa, the stay at Nairobi, and at Ngoma Ngoma.

His Lordship was of the opinion that the hunting party that had been organised raised no presumption that any guilty purpose was intended.

With regard to the relations between Sir Charles Ross and Mrs. Dalziel there was no suggestion of anything suspicious or clandestine in their actions.

There was no evidence of misconduct. While the defender and the co-defender during 1921 spent a long part of that period in each other's company, the amount and character of the evidence was not sufficient to establish misconduct.

He thought the evidence as to the alleged misconduct unsatisfactory and unreliable, and it was overborne by reliable evidence to the opposite effect.

He accordingly held that the charges of misconduct had not been proved.

WHEN FRANCE FACED RUIN.

REDUCED TO SELLING COPPER.

Extraordinary revelations of how France was on the verge of financial ruin before M. Poincare's National Union Government was formed, were made by the Premier himself during the debate in the Chamber on Communist activities.

M. Schmidt, who held an under-secretaryship in M. Herriot's Cabinet, had declared that "the present Government is a prisoner of the banks," and this brought M. Poincare to his feet.

"That is false, sir," thundered the Premier, "and those who reproach me with being the prisoner of the banks are the self-same people who bent the knee to foreign financiers."

"What do you mean?" blurted out M. Schmidt.

"I mean," replied M. Poincare, "that on the eve of the day I assumed office, you had been reduced to the expedient of negotiating in London the sale of the copper belonging to the Ministry of War."

M. Poincare's revelation caused an uproar, and the President had to suspend the sitting.

"How did you sleep?
You certainly look fine!"

She: "How did I sleep?—If I look the way I feel, you ought to see that I slept like a babe. Do you know, nowadays, I simply love life the whole long day, from the time I get up to the time I go to bed."

He: "Well, you look as fresh as a rosebud—and that is flattering language between an old married couple."

She: "Thank you. And you sleep better yourself. What a wonderful change Sanatogen has made in both of us. Like the flow of new life through one's veins."

Sanatogen infuses into the cells of blood and nerves exactly those elements—phosphorus and albumin—from which bodily health and nerve strength are derived. Over 24,000 physicians have written enthusiastic letters about the success they obtained with Sanatogen.

Five coins realised nearly £1,000 at Glendinning's, Oxford Circus, W., at a pattern crown of Charles II. (1663) selling for £192 and a crown of 1662 for £162.

A trial which has been followed with marked interest throughout South Africa has concluded at Maritzburg when Chief Solomon (son of Dinizulu and grandson of Cetewayo) was awarded £500 damages against the "Naval Mercury" for libel. The claim arose out of an allegation by the "Mercury" that on the occasion of the war dance at Eshove in honour of the Prince of Wales's visit Solomon was discourteous to the Prince.

Fourteen bodies have been recovered from the debris of a suburb of Tiflis, when most of the Mount of David, a small mountain outside Tiflis, slid down after a heavy storm of rain. The cog railway, by which the Mount of David was climbed, and a restaurant which was on its slopes, were destroyed together with a number of residences. The top of the Mount of David was a favourite spot from which to watch the fascinating sunsets in this region.

A Reuter cable from San Francisco announces the death, in his seventy-fourth year, of John Drew, the actor and a son of the Irish comedian who died in 1862. His first public appearance on the stage was in Philadelphia in 1873 when he took the part of Plummer, in Cool as a Cucumber. He was the leading man in Augustin Daly's Co., 1879-1892, creating many parts, and was starred in numerous plays up to the year 1925 when he was leading man in Trelawney of the Wells.

The committee of Shanghai St. Andrew's Society has invited the members to subscribe to a fund for the purchase of claymores for presentation to the Shanghai Scottish, for use by the officers instead of the English pattern infantry sword which hitherto has been worn. It is not yet known whether the officers are to be given simply the cross-hilted service claymore, or the basket-hilted full-dress weapon, it being the custom to wear the dirk also with the latter, and the smaller blade being another piece of ornamentation the Shanghai Scottish at present do not possess.

Mr. A. S. Haynes, Secretary for Agriculture F.M.S., is going to England on special duty early next month. Mrs. Haynes will accompany him.

The most popular girl in New South Wales, Miss Stella Maroney, accompanied by her father and mother, arrived at Southampton by the White Star liner "Ceramic," from Australia recently. Miss Maroney has secured for herself this title by being awarded the highest number of votes in the Popular Girl Competition organised in New South Wales in aid of cancer research funds. Her votes numbered 20,000, and as each vote had to send one shilling subscription the fund benefited to the extent of £1,000. Miss Maroney is now enjoying part of the prize which she gained, it being a free return trip to England, given by the White Star Line, and a Continental tour by the London Travel Agency.

It is an open secret that Mr. G. Locker-Lampson might, before now, have had a place in the Ministry, but he has declined, preferring to avoid anything which might put restraint upon the campaign he was conducting in favour of the eviction of the Russian representatives here. He, or rather the stupidity of the Russians themselves, has converted the Government to his view, and there is now no difference of opinion between him and the Cabinet, with most members of which he is very popular. We may, therefore, expect to see Com-Lock-Lampson's name mentioned in connection with the earliest vacancy, but it will have to be something more than an Under-Secretaryship.

The Supreme Court at Washington has decided that foreign-born children of foreign-born American citizens, who never lived in the United States before the birth of their offspring, are not American citizens. The decision was given in a case affecting a Chinese whom the Government sought to deport.

The demonstration at Berlin of the Communist semi-military organisation, the League of the Red Fighting Front, passed off without disturbance. Among the inscriptions displayed, the most frequent were "Hands off Russia," "China for the Chinese," and "War against War." Two flags, one from the Soviet and one from China, were solemnly presented to the "Red Front League" by Herr Thalmann, Communist member of the Reichstag and commander of the League.

It was somewhat of a shock, on passing a "Naffy" canteen hut, the sounds from within which indicated that a merry musical evening was in progress, to notice not only the five-barred Chinese flag, but also the Canton flag on strings across the windows. Closer inspection showed many more inside, with a few Union Jacks, Tricolours, Old Glories and other ancient emblems, and the thought then occurred (says a Shanghai paper) that, with so many canteens to be equipped, the supply of flags may have run out, and probably it was thought that any touch of colour is better than nothing.

"I have noticed a change in the whole technique of business in my time," said Sir Alfred Mond, M.P., in a recent speech. "It is no use now sending round the old type of commercial traveller. I may describe him as a zealous gentleman, very voluble in language, and very pleasant in manner, who sold people things which they otherwise would not have bought. That won't do today. You have to send round now scientific men who understand the scientific aspects of what you have to sell and the technical needs of your customers. You have to carry the scientific idea right through all business, otherwise you find a great hiatus between the factory departments and the selling departments."

MY NOTE BOOK.

New Arrangement of Bowls Notes.

"A BOXING MANIAC."

COCK FIGHTING AND CRICKET.

HORSEBACK EVENTS.

(By "The Tramp.")

My friend "Short Head", who writes the very readable notes on the game of lawn bowls in the "China Mail", asks me to draw attention to the fact that he has varied his usual programme this week and intends to continue the practice, which is thus: On Wednesdays he will give his resume of the previous week's play and on Fridays he will give his coming week-end programme and prognostications, thus splitting into two articles all the information which was originally contained in the Friday contribution. He thinks, and trusts, that this new arrangement will be acceptable to the bowls enthusiasts in the Colony, and I think so too, because, happening to drop into a couple of Clubs last Wednesday evening whose members play the game regularly I observed more than a few reading the notes and heard them commenting upon them. What they said I will not divulge, lest our friend become more than a wee bit bumptious.

It is good to see how the Noble Art of Boxing is flourishing amongst both Service men and civilians in Shanghai, and in reading of the many tournaments held there recently I cannot but possess in my mind just a little thought that we in Hong-Kong have missed opportunities for the staging of similar shows during the period in which the weather is not absolutely stifling. I, of course, am a boxing maniac, as I have been so described by those here and in other places who are aware of my enthusiasm for the game. So perhaps my somewhat disloyal thought will be excused by the officials of our hardworking Association in Hong Kong. Still, we are gradually getting through the hot spell, and when it has sufficiently passed away we shall without doubt have some worthy shows arranged for us. And I shall be there with bells on!

And now to another form of fighting, one which I do not like so much. Cock-fighting, an ancient blood sport, heavily suppressed by the police, is, I see, showing a marked revival in the mountain districts in Britain. Two members of the British aristocracy were recently fined £10 for participating in the promotion of a cock-fight. This form of sport flourished in Britain from the time of the Roman invasion, and the authorities have been trying to suppress it since 1355. Their efforts were partly successful in 1849, when cock-pits in the cities were closed down, but their efforts have been practically fruitless in the mountainous regions of Britain. The owners of fighting cocks are usually miners who train these birds, which weigh from three to four pounds, and match them for a heavy stake. Large sums are also betted on the matches by on-lookers.

A series of matches are carried out at a meeting, where the birds fight equipped with a pair of silver or steel spurs, with which they slash and tear each other, until one, drops and is unable to rise from loss of blood. In some mains, as the matches are called, the cocks fight until only one is left alive. These matches usually take place on a Sunday morning, the promoters taking the utmost precaution to guard their plans from the police, who are always on the look-out for these meetings. An unfrequented spot in the moors or mountains is chosen for the contests and a cordon of scouts are placed for miles round to give warning of the approach of the authorities. The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is co-operating with the police in their efforts to suppress this sport.

And quite right too! Now let me talk about something I know more about. Cricket, for instance. My mail brings news of the death of Dick Attewell. A famous Notts cricketer, William Attewell, died at Long Eaton after a long illness. One of the greatest of medium-pace bowlers, Attewell first played for Notts in 1881, and during his first-class career took 1,616 wickets for fewer than 16 runs apiece. Just a useful bat, he made 102 against Kent in 1897, and at Lord's he and William Gunn put on 419 for the M. C. C. against Northumberland, Attewell scoring 200. He paid three visits to Australia, in 1884-5, 1887-8, and 1891-2. During the 1887 tour, in eleven-aside matches, he took 53 wickets for 11 runs apiece.

An annual polo match between teams representing the House of Lords and the House of Commons was instituted at the Ranelagh Club in 1906, for a challenge cup presented by that keen polo enthusiast the eighth Earl of Harrington. This trophy was won outright by the Upper House in 1925, with three successive victories. The match, which fell through last year, was contested in May week at Ranelagh, when the House of Lords, represented by Lord Digby, the Duke of Beaufort, Lord Cromwell, and Earl Beatty, beat the House of Commons (Lord Apsley, M. G. R. D. Shaw, Sir Archibald Sinclair, and Capt. the Hon. F. E. Guest) after a well-contested game, in which Lord Cromwell and Lord Digby were prominent, by 5 goals to 3. The new challenge cup, given by the Ranelagh Club, was presented to the winners by H.H. Princess Marie Louise.

The Marquis de Triquerville's seven-year-old Coyote, favourite for the Grand Steeplechase (the French Grand National) at Auteuil on Sunday, June 19, scored one of the easiest victories recorded for many years from the winner of the Irish Grand National, Jerpoint—the latter owned by Mr. J. M. Barbour jun., one of the partners of the famous Irish thread firm. Mr. Barbour made a bold bid for this most important chase. Before he brought Jerpoint from Ireland the horse was trained over a specially laid out course on his estate with fences as near as possible identical with those of Auteuil. The Grand Steeplechase differs essentially from the Grand National at Aintree in that the pace of the Parisian race is considerably faster owing to the smaller fences and to the fact that French jumpers still follow the principle laid down by the late Baron Finot—one of the greatest figures of the French turf—and jump at a speed practically unknown in England or Ireland.

I see that Mr. C. B. Cochran, the boxing promoter, has stated that the outgoings in connection with the Walker-Milligan fight for the world's middle-weight championship at Olympia, Kensington, W., were £31,350, made up as follows:

Walker and Kearns, his manager	15,000
Olympia	4,000
Extra seating	1,000
Insurance	750
Staff, police, etc.	1,500
Publicity	1,100
Other bouts, officials, seconds, and paraphernalia	5,000

HOME CRICKET.

EASY VICTORY FOR NOTTS.

London, July 21. At Southend Nottinghamshire beat Essex by eight wickets. Essex scored 121, Larwood taking six for 46, and 100, Voce taking six for 80. Notts scored 186, Eastman taking six wickets for 62; and taking two.—Reuter.

LAWN BOWLS.

Prospects For Saturday's Games.

LEADERS AT HOME.

Shift Hurdles For Second Leaders.

(By "Short Head.")

Of the three First Division matches on the card tomorrow pride of place must be given to the fixture at Kowloon between the Kowloon Cricket Club and the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, not because it has any bearing on the championship, but on account of the old-time rivalry that exists between these two Clubs. At Easter time these Clubs played a series of "friendly" matches with the exchanges greatly favouring the Bowling Green Club, whilst in the League competition this season the older Club won by 28 shots. To-morrow's match will hinge greatly on the personnel of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, which has a strong team. If they manage to finish at the bottom of the table they may find to their chagrin that they have not won the Second Division championship. If they can win only three out of their remaining First Division matches they should be able to pass on to the dreaded "wooden spoon" to the Craignower C.C. or the Civil Service C.C. That should not be beyond them if they do not sacrifice their best players too much with the intention of strengthening the second string. In any event, to-morrow's tussle with the Bowling Green Club should be of real interest, and I am not going to act the role of prophet and predict the winners.

Easy Thing For Kowloon Dock. With the Kowloon Dock R.C. playing at home no one could seriously say that the Craignower C.C. will be the first to lower their colours. The records of the two Clubs this season are entirely different, and although the ground Club got a fright against the Kowloon Cricket Club last Saturday it may be taken for granted that they will leave nothing to chance to-morrow. Unfortunately they will be without Adam Gourlay, who is in the French Hospital, but they have a sufficient reserve to draw upon. A year ago they won this fixture by three shots, and earlier this season they beat the Craignower C.C. at the Valley by nine shots. If the latter can spring a surprise, good and well, more power to their elbows, but form cannot always be disregarded.

Chance for the Police. At Happy Valley the Police Recreation Club entertain the Talke R.C. and have a glorious chance of distinguishing themselves by wrestling whole four points from Talke in one session, as in the first match they surprised even themselves by winning at Talke by four shots. The Talke are not afraid of the Police Green, for they won there a year ago by 36 shots. To-morrow they have that defeat on their own ground to avenge, and as they have since been going very steadily they will not let the points go without a dour struggle.

Second Division Chances. The Second Division card is full of good things. The nominal leaders—the Kowloon Cricket Club—are due at King's Park, where they meet the Club de Recoire, whom they defeated earlier in the season on their own ground by only nine points. The Club de Recoire surprised their supporters last Saturday by heavily defeating the Civil Service C.C., and there is nothing to hinder them from performing a similar feat to-morrow if they only "put their backs into it" from the word "Go." They will find their opponents out to make every post a winning post after their first defeat in the League last Saturday, but that need not affect their play. As to the K.C.C., naturally they favour their chances of adding to their points and thus bringing the championship of this Division nearer actuality, and form is all in their favour, taking the season as a whole.

Another Doubtful Issue. The other Second Division leaders—the Kowloon Bowling Green Club—visit the Happy Valley to try conclusions against the Craignower Cricket Club, whom they beat already this season by the narrow majority of only seven points. Ground advantage ought to be sufficient to enable the Craignower lot to turn the tables, particularly if they safeguard themselves against either Maclean's or Warren's "drives." At the same time they are not immune from defeat on their own ground, and given a reasonable share of the "joss," the visitors might just win. Their opponents, taking them all over, are a weaker lot than the East Point R.C. who lowered the Kowloon's colours last Saturday, thanks in part to one of the latter's skip's woods not being delivered, thus necessitating the use of strange bowls. Like the K.C.C., the Bowling Green rather fancy their chances for the championship and do not regard a meeting with the C.C. as anything like a formidable hurdle.

Yacht Club at Home. The Yacht Club are at home for the second Saturday running, their guests to-morrow being the East Point R.C. This should be a good and pleasant game in spite of the lowly position of the hosts on the League table. It is about time that the latter secured their first couple of points. Will to-morrow be "Der Tag?" Last season the East Point

R.C. secured the points by a majority of 14 shots, and this season they have already won on their own green by 15 shots—not such a terrible margin after all!

Talko's Hopes. At Talke the visitors are the Civil Service Cricket Club who were defeated at the Valley this season by the unlucky "thirteen." They won the same fixture at Talke a year ago, however, by eight shots, and they may be relied upon to try to emulate that performance to-morrow. A win for Talke will still keep them in the running for the championship in spite of their chances having until last Saturday been "forgotten" by the Kowloon bowling fraternity. On the other hand, the Civil Service have only five more matches to play and they must make the most of the few opportunities for finishing in a respectable position on the League ladder. "Jim" Massey's "big four," I notice, has been broken up, but that does not mean that, if it goes down, he will take the first Carr home!

TO-MORROW'S FIXTURES.

Matches down for decision to-morrow are:—
Division I.

OLD PEKING J.C.

SPORT LOVERS IN BOXER DAYS.

The "China Mail" has received from a reader at Upper Norwood, Surrey, a copy of a photograph of historic interest reminiscent of the Boxer Rising of 1900. It was published in the "Croydon Times" by the courtesy of Mr. Robert Hurl Maye, F.R.G.S., late of the C. M. Customs and now living at Upper Norwood.
The photograph was taken at the close of the Spring Meeting of the Peking Jockey Club in 1900, a year rendered historic by the Boxer rising in China. In the group are His Excellency (who was the Belgian Charge d'Affaires in the Chinese capital when the foreign legations there were besieged by the Boxers during the summer of 1900), and four other well-known members of that cosmopolitan racing club: The Marquis Salvago Raggi, the Italian Minister; Baron von Ketteler, the German Minister; Monsieur Michael de Giers, the Russian Minister; and Mr. Fred W. Mase, of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs Service.
When the Great War was being waged Baron de Cartier de Marville returned to Peking as Belgian Minister there. Some years ago he was promoted to the rank of Ambassador and given the Belgian Embassy at Washington. The Marquis Salvago Raggi was wounded in the siege; His Excellency years afterwards was the Italian Ambassador at Paris, and is at present Italian Delegate to the Reparations Commission, sitting in the French capital.

Killed by Boxers.

Baron von Ketteler was killed by Boxers when on his way to the Chinese Foreign Office from the British Legation to which he and his American wife had gone for safety upon the outbreak of hostilities. Monsieur de Giers survived the siege, and in 1914 was the Russian Ambassador at Constantinople, but of course, was withdrawn in August of that year. However, His Excellency's valuable work for his native land was not finished even then, because, subsequent to his departure from the Bosphorus shore, he was appointed Russian Ambassador at Rome.
Mr. F. W. Mase narrowly escaped the horrors of the siege, inasmuch as only in May, 1900, he was, after a seven years' residence in Peking, gazetted to the Commissioner's office at Ichang, a treaty 1,000 miles up the River Yangtze. He is now the Commissioner of Customs at Shanghai.

And among the minor outrages committed by the Boxers in North China were the burning of the above-mentioned club-house, and the destruction of its adjoining racecourse!

"BUD" WALLEY.

SINGAPORE BOXER IN MANILA.

Bud Walley missed a good opportunity of making up for his two previous defeats at the hands of Joe Alexander in their third encounter at the Stadium. Mike Toomey called the scrap a draw to the disappointment of the obero section. It was not a bad decision after all.
It was Walley's fault that a draw was given because he made the mistake of exchanging blows with Alexander who literally rained lefts and rights from every angle. Had Walley followed his seconds who advised him to box his man instead of fighting him the Singapore flyweight could have easily shaded Alexander. Walley boxed Alexander in the 8, 9, 10 and 11 rounds badly out-pointing his man from long range. The Malayan forgot himself in the last round and Joe Alexander piled enough points to leave room for doubt.

The longer route did not provide the fans with extra entertainment as both Walley and Alexander were holding out their

MUSIC • DRAMA • FILMS.

DEFENCE OF THE CINEMA.

Hong Kong Students' Views.

Before mentioning its advantages, let us have a brief account of how the cinema is made.

First of all, the director, who is really the holder of the fate of the cinema, has to pick out a well selected story generally either based on a very popular novel or some portion of history. The story is then passed to the scenario writer who adds various details. These are the two main steps of the literary work. The technical phase is to prepare scenes, casts, costumes, electrical appliances and camera "shootings." Everything being ready in the studio, the director commences his work, to direct and supervise the production. It is no easy task; he must understand different branches of art and science, particularly psychology. Distributing or releasing the picture belongs to the business side of the management.

Thus the cinema is a product welded together by the appropriate combination of literature, philosophy, science and fine arts as well as the concentration and energy of the author, director, actors and business experts. It is also an expensive product—pictures costing millions of dollars are by no means uncommon.

Were it the worst and most harmful thing in the world, as some people think, it would receive public censure, resulting in heavy loss. On the contrary, the cinema is accorded great praise and the producer reaps a richly earned reward. Thousands and thousands of people throughout the world willingly pay to see good pictures and cinema-going is a part of their regular time table.

In so much as the cinema is a product of high refinement, as mentioned above, a close observation of some of the good pictures will show its contribution to the world. No wonder some of the schools employ it as a means to supplement the usual forms of education.

The cinema works into the minds of men—leaving vivid impressions which last throughout life. These facts can be shown by reviewing several popular pictures. Pictures like "The Big Parade" and "The Crowded Hours" arouse our interest of war by showing us the horrors and futility of that method of settling international differences. We seem to be carried back to past ages when we see such pictures as "Robin Hood," "Richard the Lion Hearted," and "Abraham Lincoln." The thrilling "Black Pirates," and "Clothes make the Pirate," disclose the most striking lives of the sea-faring outlaws. We fancy ourselves to be enjoying or enduring the softest hours, when "Monsieur Beaucaire," "A Thief in Paradise," and "The Dance Madness" are shown on the screen, and so our spirits are raised on seeing Fairbanks' pictures. The hard games exhibited in "Brown of Harvard," and "The Freshman" thrill us. Our fields of vision are broadened by the wonderful picture "The Lost World," which affords us a chance to see the most rarely found beasts of which some species are said to be extinct. If the proverb, "To laugh once a day will make you healthy" is true, then, the comedies with Harold Lloyd and Charles Chaplin are surely as good for one as a tonic from a doctor.

The cinema is a thing which makes the past present, the distant near; places us in the society of great men or in the field of a horrible battle; calls up our favourite heroes of the past before us as if they were come to life again; explains the uses and processes of working different inventions; introduces fresh ideas, quaint fashions and customs of various peoples; and last of all, raises the civilisation of the world. Certainly, it is a powerful influence as well as a great industry.

It may be that some of us only see its wicked phase and declare that most of the pictures really teach the outlaws ways of committing theft or murder by showing them secrets. Well, once these secrets are disclosed before the public, they cannot be called secrets any longer, and at the same time act as clues to the detectives.

With so many advantages as aforesaid, the value of the cinema should not be under estimated. M. F. in the "Yellow Dragon."

SAVING THE DRAMA.

Theatre Decorator to the Rescue.

Stockholm, June 5. The Swedish theatres, threatened by the competition of sumptuous cinemas with excellent music, have now resorted to an ingenious device to cater for the public by ordering highly artistic decorations from the best of the young Swedish painters. The rich colouring and the marvellous "symphonies" in milleu arrangements, working with striking effects of lights, shadows and profiles, have won the admiration of the dramatic critics as well as of the art critics, and the present-day public seems to be more attracted by aesthetic decoration than by the play itself. The danger of the players becoming puppets in a wondrously-painted setting is overcome by the efforts of the stage manager in getting the actors and actresses to speak and move in new fashions and introducing a striking familiarity of language.

During the now ending season "The Taming of the Shrew," "Antony and Cleopatra," and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" have been given in this new way with decorations by the gifted artists Sandro Malmquist and Isaac Grunewald, and proved to be great successes. The admirable scenic painter, Jon-And, now attached to the Royal Dramatic Theatre in Stockholm, has decorated the mystic Strindberg play "To Damascus" and "On Board," by Prince Wilhelm, youngest son of King Gustaf.

On the operatic stage such an artistic payment is more conformable with the spirit of the art, and the well-known painter Isaac Grunewald's Oriental decorations to "Samson and Delilah" and his quite anachronistic colours and arrangements to Offenbach's "Orpheus in Hades" created the taste of the public for the new art. Jon-And, an artistic globe-trotter of quick perception and sure eye, has framed the "Boggar Student," by Milloker, in a series of changing wonders of craftsmanship and art.

As a consequence of this new tendency in theatre painting, the pits and galleries are being filled, and in spite of the high cost to the artists, the theatres seem to pay certainly a feat in these materialistic days.

"THE FARMER'S WIFE."

Speculation as to who will direct the British film to be made of "The Farmer's Wife," the play which ran for 1,329 performances at the Court Theatre, Sloane-square, S.W., ends with the news that Mr. Alfred Hitchcock will direct the picture, probably as soon as he has finished his forthcoming production entitled "The Ring." Both will be made at the new studios at Elstree, Hertfordshire.

As an indication of the interest that nearly all writers now take in film matters, it is noteworthy that Mr. Eden Phillpotts, who wrote the play, is said to be re-writing, re-scripting and expanding the plot of "The Farmer's Wife" himself, ready for the screen version.

In the past it has been an uncommon thing for authors to criticise film-makers for "distorting" their plots: to-day most of them recognise that the plot of many novels and more plays requires pretty drastic alteration before either can provide a workmanlike film-play.

Mr. Noel Coward has consented to a very free and truly bowdlerised version of "The Vortex" used for the film of that name which Mr. Adrian Brunel has just begun to direct.—I.E.

FORGOTTEN GLUCK OPERA.

At the Vienna High School and Academy of Music some students gave a spirited rendering of Gluck's forgotten one-act comic opera, "Der Zauberbaum" ("The Magic Tree"), under the clever baton of Robert Hegner. It was composed in 1769 and performed for the first time at the Schonbrunn Castle in French. When he stayed in Paris Gluck wrote "The Magic Tree." Its music is sunny and charming and bears the mark of genius, while the plot leaves the impression of the conventional of the period.

KREISLER RECITAL.

King and Queen at the Albert Hall.

The King and Queen visited the Albert Hall on the occasion of Kreisler's recital in aid of Queen Mary's Hospital.

Their Majesties were attended by Princess Alice, the Dowager Countess of Arlue, Lady Bertha, Davkings, Lady May Cambridge, Brigadier-General the Earl of Lucan, the Hon. Sir Harry Stoner, and Major Reginald Seymour.

On arrival the royal party were received by Prince Henry, president of the hospital, and by Earl Howe, president of the Royal Albert Hall Council.

Although it was a royal performance there were so many late comers that Kreisler, whose first item was the Mendelssohn's concerto in E minor, had to wait nearly five minutes between two of the movements. This was a source of undue annoyance both to Kreisler and their Majesties.

After the first half of the programme Kreisler was summoned to the Royal box and congratulated by their Majesties.

COLUMBIA RECORDS.

The Singing Sophomores, who have done good work for the Columbia Company, show that they have lost none of their harmonic sense during their absence from the catalogues, but return with renewed zest. They sing "Here in my arms," from "Lido Lady," and "I'd love to meet that old sweetheart of mine," and sing them with a fine balance of tone and with many unexpected touches of "vocal orchestration"—which happens to be the prevailing fashion. Vaughn de Leath prefaces her new records by a sort of vocal "Billie Holiday" and so shows that she is in line with her contemporaries, whispering and cooing. She sings "That's a good girl" and "Susie's Feller," and sings them with the intelligence we have a right to expect from the quaint lady who first told us what "banana oil" was. Norah Blaney shows that the company of Gwen Farrer was not indispensable to her artistry. She sings, and sings very feelingly, "While my pretty one sleeps," then, in another mood, the quaintly written number, "If you hadn't gone away."

Percival Mackey's Carnival Singers serve up a medley of vocal gems extracted from "Queen High," with a piano accompaniment played, we suppose, by Percival himself, since he is conducting the performance of the musical play at the Queen's Theatre. This is a good disc to make a merry crowd merrier— which reminds us: If you happen to attract to your house a number of old or middle-aged timers, put on Tony Lowry's medley of old songs. Lowry plays the piano—not great, by any means, but with just the sort of punch to "get over" the 16 items he has extracted from the past. He plays the choruses of some of the numbers which were popular five and twenty years ago and which have been heard at the Empire recently, and inspires his hearers vocally. There is only one false note, and it is difficult to understand just why Tony Lowry struck it—he finishes with "Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag," which is a song of the war.

Layton and Johnstone come up to scratch as usual with two double-sided discs. They sing the modernised version of the old chanty, "Billy Boy," Talking to the Moon, "Any Time, Anywhere," and "Shepherd of the Hills," which looks as if it is going to make a nuisance of itself. Elsie Carlisle, a comedienne who recalls Vaughn de Leath and Ellen Stanley, sings "I can't get over a boy like you loving a girl like me," which Terry and Pat Kendall are still singing at the Empire, and the quaintly written number, "Meadow Lark." Sophie Tucker, that burlesque, blatant singer of Americanisms, is heard against a background provided by Ted Lewis and his band in "Some of these days," and certainly compels one to sit up and take notice. Vivian Foster, known as the "Vicar of Mirth," is now mirthful in his new disc, "The Parson and the Charles-ton," and if it were not for his interpolated "Yes, I think so," he would be very dull indeed. There is very little wit in his discourse,

C. N. CO. STRIKE.

IMPORTANT MOVE
EXPECTED.

AWAITING NEWS FROM SHANGHAI.

There was no change to-day in the strike amongst deck officers and engineers of the China Navigation Co. At the last Guild meeting it was announced, we understand, that an important move on the part of the men was imminent and that what they were to wait for was an order from the Shanghai offices of the Guild.

Tientsin Developments.

The Guilds stated that so far as they were concerned the most interesting happening during the week-end had been the receipt of a telegram from Tientsin stating that the officers of the str. "Fengtien" and "Shuntien" had left for Shanghai and would arrive here to-morrow. According to the telegram, the officers had left Tientsin "to avoid criminal prosecution."

The secretary of the China Coast Officers' Guild stated that the facts of the case were that the company wanted the vessels referred to moved to some other port, that the officers had refused, and at the same time had asked that they be allowed to sign off the articles. Permission for this had not been given, and it appeared that there was a prospect of criminal proceedings being instituted against the officers who had been logged for refusing duty. Hence they had decided to come to Shanghai.

"Knew Nothing." Interviewed on the same matter, Messrs. Butterfield & Swire stated that they knew nothing at all about the "criminal prosecution" referred to in the telegram to the Guilds. So far as they knew, all that had happened was that a situation had arisen at Tientsin similar in many ways to that which arose in Shanghai soon after the strike started, when three members of the company's floating staff who refused to move their ships were informed that refusal was considered by the company as tantamount to resignation.

At Tientsin, it was desired to move the str. "Fengtien" to Tongku and to move the "Shuntien" to another spot preparatory to her sailing for Shanghai on July 20. The officers had refused, and had therefore been asked to leave the ships. They had refused to do this, and had therefore been informed that in that case appropriate steps would be taken against them.

There has been little change in the general situation. The company states that so far as they are concerned, there is nothing new, and the Guilds say that apart from the Tientsin incident everything is as before. Messrs. B.S. have been received from the outposts stating that all the striking officers remain firm.

Steamer Movements.

The "Poyang," which left on July 9 for river ports and Hankow, returned to Shanghai yesterday. The "Tatung" is expected to sail for river ports and Hankow to-morrow. The "Shantung," which left for Hong Kong on July 9, is expected to return on Wednesday. The "Tungchow," which also left on the 9th, for northern ports and Tientsin, is expected back in Shanghai to-morrow. The "Shuntien" is expected to leave Tientsin for Shanghai on Wednesday.

To Commence Running.

Shanghai, July 19. Interviewed by a representative of the "North China Daily News" yesterday evening in regard to the position of the strike of the officers of the China Navigation Co., Messrs. Butterfield & Swire stated that it had been decided to make the best use of the resources available to the company and to commence running whatever ships were possible at the earliest opportunity, making use of such officers as remained on the ships and of others whose services might be obtained.

It was obvious that at the present time at least only a proportion of the fleet could be put into operation, and such vessels as could not be used would definitely be laid up till opportunity came for their employment. It was proposed to bring back to Shanghai those vessels of the company the operation of which was based on Shanghai and which now were at Hong Kong.

Output Ships. A definite decision had not been arrived at concerning the ships now laid up at the outposts, but it was not improbable, in the event of the officers on the ships refusing to bring them here, that the company would despatch sufficient staff from Shanghai to bring the ships in. It was too early to state exactly what vessels were likely to be put into service, as this was a matter for careful consideration.

Messrs. Butterfield & Swire stated that the str. "Tatung" would be despatched to river ports and Hankow to-day, and the "Poyang" on Friday. The "Tungchow," which was

LORD ABINGER.

SUCCESSOR TO TITLE IN CHINA.

SHANGHAI FORCE OFFICER.

Owing to the death of his brother, Lord Abinger, Lieut.-Colonel the Hon. Hugh R. Scarlett D.S.O., who is now in Shanghai with the Shanghai Defence Corps, succeeds to the title.

The successor to the barony, who is forty-nine years of age, was with the "Buffa" (West Kent's) prior to the China trouble and came East six months ago, attached to the staff of Col. Duncan.

Lord Abinger, by whose death he succeeds to the title, was a barrister of the Inner Temple and Assistant Paymaster, R.N.R.

Lieut.-Colonel the Hon. Hugh Scarlett is the seventh holder of the title.

PACIFIC FLIGHT.

EX-BRITISH SERVICE MAN
TO TRY.

San Francisco, July 21. A third aviator who has formally entered for James Dole flight contest to Hawaii on August 12 for $35,000 (gold), namely, Frederick Alexander Giles, is an ex-British Air Service man, who will fly a Hess-Bluebird biplane.

Other entrants are Goebel, of Los Angeles, and Major Livingston Irving, of Berkeley.—Reuter's American Service.

Flight to India.

Rugby, July 21. Sir Philip Sassoon, Under-Secretary of State for Air, stated in the House of Commons that a further attempt to make a non-stop flight to India might be made at any time when the Air staff are satisfied with certain tests yet to be carried out and when meteorological conditions are favourable.—British Wireless Service.

SPAIN AND BELGIUM.

TREATY OF ARBITRATION
SIGNED.

Madrid, July 21. The Spanish Ambassador at Brussels, Senor Palacios, and the Belgian Foreign Minister, M. Vandervelde, have signed a Hispano-Belgian Treaty of Arbitration providing for the pacific settlement of all disputes between the two countries.

It is semi-officially stated that Belgium and Spain are getting farther away from the League of Nations, whose decisions are not more than recommendations with no obligatory character, whilst the Belgo-Spanish Treaty is obligatory and of universal application.—Reuter.

expected to arrive here from northern ports last night, would be despatched to Tientsin on Thursday. The "Shantung" was expected from Hong Kong direct to-morrow.

What the Guilds Say! According to the China Coast Officers' Guild and the Marine Engineers' Guild of China, who are looking after the interests of the striking officers, there has been no major change in the situation. Our representative was informed that yesterday the company had sent to each of the strike officers a letter in the following terms:—

"Dear Sir, We regret that consequent on your refusal of duty your employment with the company has terminated."

"The company have given you full opportunity to consider the position and from now onward vessels will be run with officers who are now in their service, together with others whom they may engage. Vessels which cannot be run will be laid up."

"Any application for return to the company's service will be considered individually and in relation to the circumstances at the time of such application."

Yours faithfully,

Butterfield & Swire."

Our representative was informed that although the Guilds considered the position still to be acute, they were open at any moment to receive any representations from the company, but that a sine qua non to any negotiations was the reinstatement in the company's service of the two masters and the chief engineer who had been dismissed soon after the strike commenced. The Guilds were afraid, however, that if the deadlock lasted much longer the company would be losing many men altogether, as quite a number were seriously contemplating leaving the China Coast for good at the end of the month.

POLICE RESERVE.

PROPOSED INTERNATIONAL

A CALL FOR RECRUITS.

The following notification has been forwarded by Lt.-Comdr. G. B. Hartford, D.S.O., R.N., Adjutant of the Hong Kong Police Reserve, to the Consulates-General in the Colony of the United States of America, Sweden, Belgium, Denmark, Japan, France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands and Norway:—

Police Headquarters, Hong Kong.

The Hong Kong Police Reserve is a body of trained, uniformed men ready to assist the regular police in times of emergency.

The terms of engagement are indefinite but if a man wishes to resign within a year of joining he is expected to refund the value of his uniform.

When called up, i.e. when the Governor declares a state of emergency, Reservists can only resign for reason of health. At all other times Reservists can resign at will having given a month's notice beforehand. It is not intended that any gentleman should remain in the force if he does not wish to do so.

Similarly, the Captain Superintendent of Police may terminate a reservist's engagement at one month's notice. He may also dismiss any Reservist if he considers he has sufficient reason to do so. Details of training scheme are attached.

It is intended that an International Company of the Police Reserve be formed where all nationals are eligible except those already formed or about to be formed; i.e. Chinese, Indians and Portuguese. Members of this company do not have to take the oath of allegiance.

Will you be kind enough to promulgate these details amongst your countrymen?

My address is Central Police Station and I can interview anyone who is interested at the Chief Inspector's Office between 9.30 a.m. and 12.30 p.m. or at any other time by appointment.

(Signed) G. B. HARTFORD, Adjutant, D.S.P. (R).

July 21, 1927.

Training Scheme.

The training of Police Reservists is divided up into three headings as follows:—

A. Simple squad drill and rifle exercise.

B. Police Duties.

C. Rifle and Pistol Shooting.

There are no routine drills in connection with the Police Reserve. Reservists must satisfy the commanding officer that they have a practical knowledge of 'A'. If they have not in the first instance, then they are expected to attend at the Central Police Station on one day a week from 5.30 p.m. to 6.30 p.m. for drill. When they are qualified in 'A' they receive a 'Q' after their name for that subject and they need attend no further drills.

'B' consists of a course of eight lectures given at the Police Training School. These lectures take place twice a week and thus take a month to complete. They are going on all the time and a Reservist has the choice of taking the month most convenient to him up to a period of four to six months or, in special cases, longer.

'C' takes one day a year. The Reservist's training is now complete and there are no routine drills or parades he has to attend with the exception of about once every two months when there will be a general muster of all Reservists for inspection by the Captain Superintendent of Police.

Reservists who can spare the time will be asked to state the time and dates when they are free and they will be given practical police duties to carry out to give them necessary experience. Arrangements will be made whereby reservists can make use of the Police Ranges at frequent intervals, for rifle and pistol shooting practice.

CHOLERA AND ENTERIC.

Two cases of cholera (one British and one Chinese) and one case of enteric fever (Chinese) were reported yesterday.

Miss F. L. Sherman, whose marriage to Mr. Harry Cooper, of Hong Kong, takes place next week, was a passenger on the P. & O. s.s. "Macedonia," which arrived in the Colony this morning from the north.
